Sheikha Hessa
Bint Khalifa Al Khalifa
Chairperson – INJAZ Bahrain

We are living interesting times. Globally all JA's network of teams are finding innovative ways to continue their service during this global pandemic, swiftly launching digital learning experiences and enabling students, teachers, and school systems to access JA materials.

The organization, like no other time, retains its commitment, its resilience and passion for what it does. The drive to reach students and to encourage them to keep learning can be evidenced in many such global/regional collaborations.

The Company program is our flagship program and we are pleased to have with us 13 High School teams and 8 University teams amongst a total of 32 teams from the start of the program who have shown high level of commitment and devotion to their entrepreneurial business concepts and have made it to the final competition. This clearly evidences that despite environmental challenges, our youth are determined more than ever to keep learning and pursuing their ambitions. This in itself is true passion!

At times where we are encouraged to stay at home and yet continue with our duties and responsibilities we are grateful to all the parents, educators, and volunteers who inspire the youth to continue their entrepreneurial journey. The skills and lessons acquired through this program will surely long live with the youth beyond their school and college years and will be instrumental in helping them lead economically successful future careers.

We are positive that the next few months will provide us a platform to explore new grounds, new business ventures and find new opportunities to keep learning!

Young Entrepreneurs Amaze us Again!

In the midst of a global health crisis, it is a thrilling sense of achievement when we see our budding young entrepreneurs surfing through challenges with full passion and commitment to find those opportunities that would leave their mark in the last few years of High School or in the early years of University.

The digital revolution has hit all industries by a storm as we juggle and struggle to find new ways to sustain businesses and keep learning innovatively. There are many unsung heroes who are devoting many hours, with great efforts between health, home and work....only for you to lead the best lives. My heartiest appreciation extends out to all who believe in making meaningful difference in the lives of the future generations and are helping youth reach their full potential.

With our second year of Entrepreneurship Skill Pass roll out we were pleased to see the pass results at 52% compared to 37% last year. This is a clear indication that we are elevating the Company Program to new heights.....now many more students will get opportunities to seek scholarships, engage in internships (Maybe virtual ones!) and be fortunate enough to be selected to shadow a CEO of one of our Board Companies.

Hana Sarwani
Executive Director – INJAZ Bahrain

We truly believe in the fact that challenges opens doors to new opportunities. So fellow youth....spend some time researching, excel in your studies, get connected with what's happening nationally, regionally and globally and you will find a world filled with bright opportunities for you to grab. Stay Safe and Keep Learning!

The Company Program

Company Program encompasses business, entrepreneurship, and economics curricula targeting students of age 16 to 21. The entrepreneurship program emphasizes business content, while providing a strong focus on social studies, mathematics, reading and writing skills.

Over the course of an academic semester, students start their own companies appointing positions, roles and responsibilities in order to function as a real business entity.

Young Entrepreneurs Competition enables the student companies to appear before a panel of high profile judges from the private sector who will evaluate the participants' concept, business plan and performance during the program. The competition is not simply a business competition for young people, as we attempt to balance the business achievement of each team as a whole with their members' individual performance and development. Winning teams' companies from each of the 14 INJAZ member nations proceed to compete at the INJAZ Regional Young Entrepreneurs Competition. The event enables Arab youth to perceive themselves as integral players in regional and world markets, beyond the often limited opportunities in their own communities.

Thank you:

Participating in the INJAZ Company Program has been such an enriching experience, and one that I will never forget. It was a journey that impacted my life significantly, and opened the doors to numerous possibilities and future successes. The Company Program helped me improve, develop, and learn to apply numerous skills such as teamwork, public speaking, and critical thinking skills in various real life scenarios. Professionally, with a hands on experience of starting up and running a successful company, the Program has enabled me to discover my passion for the business and entrepreneurial fields, and consider them to be a part of my future endeavors and aspirations. The opportunity to work with the local business community's volunteers have impacted me on a personal level. Their support, guidance, and confidence in me has given me the confidence I much needed. The INJAZ Bahrain Company Program has helped me discover my potential as well as the potential of today's youth and our abilities that would enable us to succeed in today's global economy. I am truly thankful for this once in a lifetime experience.

In regards of the personal impact, the Company Program gave me a lot of confidence to speak in front of a crowd or audience; it also gave me the proper skills of speech and presentation. It taught me how to deal with managers and it gave me a general idea on how the business life is. Not only that, it also showed me how important teamwork is and how each department in the company must work as one to make a company successful.

INJAZ Al-Arab crowns AlFazaa from Bahrain as winners at the 13th Youth Entrepreneurship Celebration

In an effort to recognize the achievements of young entrepreneurs, INJAZ Al Arab, a member of Junior Achievement Worldwide (JA), concluded its 13th Annual Young Arab Entrepreneurs Competition, held in Oman, with over 80 students across MENA compete for the coveted 'Company of the Year', 'Product of the Year' and 'Best Social Impact' awards. Stealing the lime-light were Al Fazaa from Bahrain winning 'Product of the Year' and The Boeing Stem Challenge Award and being nominated for 3 other awards. The INJAZ Al Arab Young Entrepreneurs Competition is an annual celebration of the achievements of students who participated and won the National Company Program Competition in their countries after demonstrating sound knowledge in business planning, market research, marketing, sales and feasibility studies. The competition aims to enhance the entrepreneurial skills of Arab Youth, as well as creating job opportunities in the market and to stimulate the economy.

Winning Team

Message from Al Fazaa's CEO on Their Experience

Abdulrahman Helal

Applied Science University – Al Fazaa

Q1: Why did you choose to be an Entrepreneur?

The passion for leaving my own footprint and impacting the society, as well as my love for adventure; these are the things that motivated me to delve into the world of Entrepreneurship. Passion is the only thing that sustains your motivation and keeps you inspired. The passion to invent and give life to new ideas, the passion to change the world, the passion to provide employment opportunities for others to build their own wealth and for yourself as well. The passion to solve life's problems. When there is enough passion in you to achieve a specific goal, that is when you will attain results which will exceed your grandest expectations.

Q2: As an entrepreneur, how did you benefit from exposure to other student companies?

There wasn't any actual cooperation with student companies in the last edition in which we participated. This was due to the variation in the work nature and means of the participating companies. Nevertheless, the current edition of the competition includes exceptional and quite promising companies, the services of which we can benefit from. There is the potential of cooperating with these companies in the near future.

Q3: What impact did winning an award in the YEC 2019 have on you?

I had already developed my passion for entrepreneurship a long time ago. However, I could never figure out where and when it was actually conceived. Winning the competition had greatly impacted me because at that moment I was assured that I was on the right track. Also, it proved that I have the necessary skills and expertise to start my own project and that I was ready to embark on the practical world of Entrepreneurship.

Q4: What is your plan to enhance your future in entrepreneurship?

To constantly search for new opportunities in the market, and to remain prepared; always ready for them when they come in order to fully utilize them for the best possible outcome. Moreover, working on constant self-development, improvement, and enhancement of personal skills in all fields and aspects in order to create new opportunities, new chances, new and innovative solutions for current problems and for expected problems before they actually occur.

Virtual Qualifying Stage

We have been fortunate to have witnessed a surge of Company student teams over the years. Thus, mandating the organization to introduce the Qualifying Stage as an added component to INJAZ Bahrain Company Program. In which, the participating students compete against all the participating teams to get qualified to the Young Entrepreneurs Competition. Due to the COVID-19 Pandemic, INJAZ Bahrain held the qualifying stage virtually. 3 representatives from each team had a video call with the judges to pitch their product/service.

13 High School and 8 University teams got qualified to compete in the Young Entrepreneurs Competition 2020.

As part of youth development and providing opportunities to inspire and prepare young Bahrainis to succeed in a global economy, INJAZ Bahrain scheduled a "Young CEO's Program" at GPIC Club. INJAZ Bahrain's long term vision is to enhance and leverage on the Company program to make it one of our most sought out programs for schools and universities by encouraging young students of the program to become the future Entrepreneurs and by providing them with the skills needed to succeed in the local economy.

Yusuf Al Basri

The young CEO event organized by INJAZ was truly a remarkable experience. It strengthened within me the determination to succeed and increased my drive to be an aspiring leader. To live what was once a dream and meet face-to-face with great leaders of today was such a great honor. It was also a great pleasure to meet with a prominent female leader of today's world, H.H. Shaikha Hessa Bint Khalifa Al-Khalifa, Chairperson - INJAZ Bahrain. Her excellency always excels in her work and efforts towards empowering the youth. Her highness will always remain an idol to all men and women, as well as the respected business leaders that attended the event. Furthermore, I strongly believe that the experience I have gained will be a valuable asset for my future. I would also like to emphasize my gratitude to INJAZ Bahrain in general, for giving us this opportunity and to Dr. Abdulrahman Jawahery, President – GPIC in particular, for hosting this successful event.

Alia Al Buhamad
British University of Bahrain - Shield

It was through this experience that the young CEOs met with the CEOs, learned about their roles in managing their successful companies, and gained wisdom from their previous experiences. The young CEOs also had an opportunity to meet with a couple of different CEOs, which showed them the different ways of managing different companies ranging from telecommunications to petroleum to even the INJAZ organization itself.

I am very grateful to have been given the chance to have attended this event because I had the privilege of gaining firsthand knowledge and firsthand experience of running a large corporation in Bahrain. It was through the insight and wisdom gained from the CEO's that my perspective has changed, my knowledge enriched and what I have learned has deferred me from making potential mistakes in the future.

INJAZ Bahrain is a life changing experience. It gives Bahraini youth the opportunity to get ready to succeed in the global economy and aspire to a brighter future.

In 2014, I had the privilege of participating in INJAZ Bahrain Company Program. In which, I took my first step into the entrepreneurship world. The program added value to experience, helped me discover my potential as an entrepreneur and built my leadership skills.

Although we didn't win, the result didn't change my vision of being an active alumnus with INJAZ Bahrain and in the importance of giving back to our community and youth. For the second year in a row, I nominated myself to be the President of INJAZ Bahrain Alumni Association. I am honored to work closely with other alumni to help exchange knowledge, ideas and best practices to ensure and sustain personal and business growth.

As part of my journey with INJAZ Bahrain, I got the opportunity to participate in JA Global Youth Forum 2018 in Mexico. It was a noteworthy experience to learn, compete and meet new people from all around the world.

Furthermore, I am pleased to be granted with the "Alumni Leadership of the Year 2019" award. As part of the reward, I got to attend the JA Global Alumni Conference 2019 in Vienna. It was a remarkable learning opportunity as I attended multiple keynotes for well-known speakers, panel discussions and master classes about business opportunities.

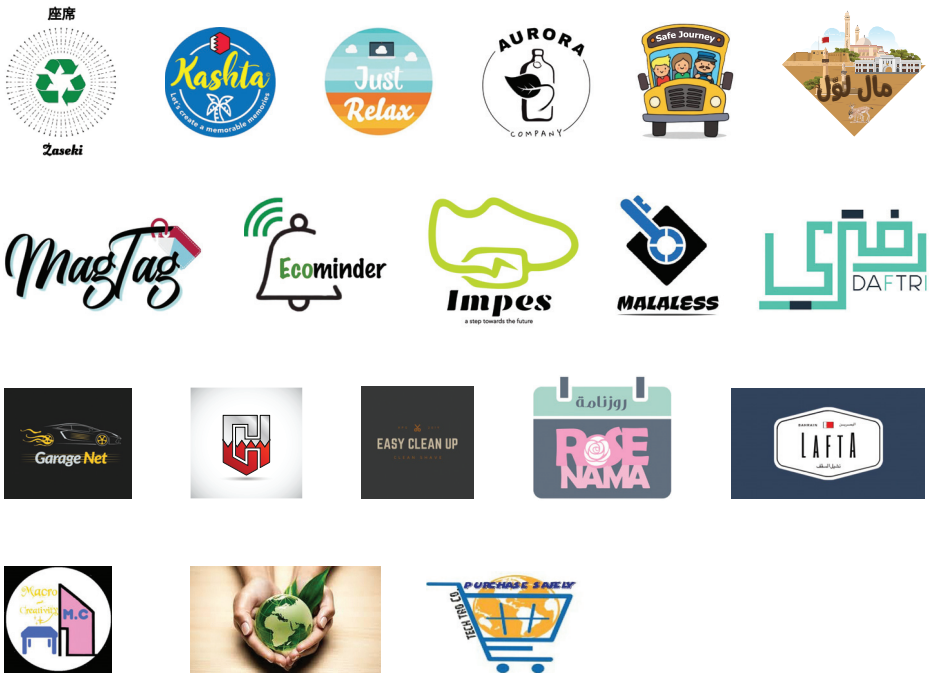

Finally, I was honored by the Ministry of Youth and Sports as one of the 390 Bahraini achievers in the year of 2019 as part of the Charter of Gold ceremony celebration.
